E-Poster Presentations

E-Poster presentations utilize the principles of adult learning by chunking content in to “bite-sized” segments. E-Poster presentations are presented in an intimate, informal learning environment that promotes idea sharing and encourages movement and discussion.

E-Poster presentations are intended to be self-sufficiently informative. They provide attendees with the option to individually ponder and explore credentialing topics. E-Poster presentations:

- Are presented on a flat panel TV
- Should utilize visual elements such as graphs, charts, and 3D models to inform the audience
- Present critical issues, research, and/or theories
